

ParTab Partners with iGolf to Bring Course Intelligence to the Games Golfers Actually Play

Golf scoring and competition platform integrates iGolf's 40,000-course mapping and GPS data alongside automated side games, live leaderboards, Ryder Cup-style events, and course-hosted tournaments.

EAGLE, IDAHO — ParTab, a golf scoring and competition platform built around the games, side bets, and friendly competitions that make a round with friends memorable, today announced a partnership with iGolf, the global leader in golf course mapping and GPS data. ParTab is available now on the App Store for iPhone and iPad, with a connected organizer console and live leaderboards at golfpartab.com.

ParTab is designed around a simple idea: Create it. Score it. Settle it. Golfers set up a competition, pick a course and game formats, invite players with a shareable code, and follow results on a live leaderboard as the round unfolds. The platform automatically scores the games groups already play — Skins, Nassau, Stableford, Chicago, Best Ball, Match Play, Wolf, Banker, 6-6-6, and Bingo Bango Bongo — while handling handicaps, presses, payouts, and the math that turns parking-lot arguments into a settled tab.

Larger events are covered too. ParTab runs multi-day competitions and Ryder Cup-style team events with fourball, alternate shot, scramble, and singles sessions, weighted match points, live cup boards, and printable scorecards for every group.

Tournament hosting for courses and leagues

Through the organizer console at golfpartab.com, golf courses, leagues, and event organizers can host complete tournaments on ParTab: public signup pages with shareable links and QR posters, online entry payments that settle directly to the course's own bank account, waitlists and early-registration windows, automatic flighting with per-flight purses and payouts, printable tee sheets and tournament scorecards, and live leaderboards built for the clubhouse TV. Events created on the web sync seamlessly with the app, so players score on their phones while organizers, sponsors, and spectators follow along from anywhere.

iGolf course intelligence, inside the same experience

With iGolf's database of more than 40,000 mapped golf courses across 177 countries, ParTab puts accurate course intelligence directly inside the experience golfers use to manage their games: satellite hole maps, front, center, and back green distances, tap-to-measure yardages to any target, and a Tournament Mode that provides distance-only GPS where permitted under the Rules of Golf.

"Golf has always been about more than the final score, and ParTab has created a great platform around the games and competition that make a round with friends memorable," said Ryan Kimberling, Vice President of Sales & Strategy at iGolf. "By combining their scoring and game management capabilities with iGolf's trusted course intelligence, we're helping golfers spend less time managing the details and more time enjoying the competition."

"ParTab started with the games my buddies and I were already playing — we just got tired of the napkin math in the parking lot," said Kody Rathe, founder of ParTab. "Partnering with iGolf puts real course intelligence underneath every one of those games, and with tournament hosting now live it brings even more golfers into the experience. This is a big step toward where we're headed next: season-long leagues, deeper tournament tools, and a platform that handles everything competitive golfers — and the courses that host them — need."
